WELCOME TO THE CLUB OF ROME-INDIA

Thank you for showing interest in becoming a member of the Indian National Association-The Club of Rome (CoR- India). CoR- India encourages four types of membership - Individual professional, Individual student, Corporate and Institutional.

We provide opportunity for the members to participate in debates, seminars, conferences and consultations at national and international levels. Joint operations on policy research can also be performed for the Climate Solutions to make headway with sustainability and other concerning issues. CoR India assists to create knowledge base to talk on future decisions for this planet and society.

CoR- India recognizes the importance of systematic thinking, which leads to coherence with policies and a way to the sustainable nation. CoR is a pioneer on the ideology of “The Limits to Growth”, which is based on the study about the future of our planet, a computing model which took into account the relations between various global developments and produced computer simulations for alternative scenarios. CoR acts as a global catalyst for systemic change and assembles the gradients of the earth.

ABOUT US

The Club of Rome is a global think tank that deals with a variety of international political issues. It was founded in April 1968 by Aurelio Peccei, an Italian industrialist, and Alexander King, a Scottish scientist. It was formed when a small international group of people from the fields of academia, civil society, diplomacy and industry, met at a villa in Rome, hence the name as The Club of Rome.

CoR consists of current and former heads of state, UN bureaucrats, high-level politicians and government officials, diplomats, scientists, economists and business leaders from around the globe. It raised considerable public attention in 1972 with its report "The Limits to Growth". The club states that its mission is "to act as a global catalyst for change through the identification and analysis of the crucial problems facing humanity and the communication of such problems to the most important public and private decision makers as well as to the general public." Since 1st July 2008, the organization has its headquarters in Winterthur, Switzerland. At present, The Club of Rome has 30 National Associations which includes the number of European nations, USA, Canada, Mexico, Brazil, Puerto Rico, Venezuela, and Asian nations. These associations analyze national, regional and continental problems in terms of the same factors and give advice to decision-makers. The Club of Rome in India is registered as "Indian National Association for The Club of Rome" and was established in 2011. The Indian National Association for CoR India defines a distinct Indian paradigm to address the most pressing concerns of India, South Asia, Asia and the world.

MEMBERSHIP CRITERIA

B E A MEMBER OF COR- INDIA

1. Be visionary and future focused, capable of spending most decision-making time looking forward, focusing mostly on the ends rather than the means.
2. Be a systems thinker, seeking to understand the root causes and forces that shape the issues and challenges faced. He or she must look for courses of action that will exert the highest possible leverage as he or she responds to those issues.
3. Have an entrepreneurial spirit, understanding the Trust must operate within a fast-changing world and, therefore, must be open to new ways of meeting the vision, values and principles established by CoR-India.
4. Be open to taking risks, balancing the need to take chances with the traditional stewardship responsibilities of CoR-India service.
5. Be an effective communicator, understanding the importance of effective communication at all levels and willing to organize CoR- India accordingly.
6. Seek creative ways to connect CoR-India to the world around him or her, exploring and imagining new forms of partnership and alliances that compliment CoR -India's vision, mission and advance the issues identified in the strategic plans.
7. Have a deep appreciation of the strength of diversity, understanding that diversity helps to assure a higher level of responsiveness and promotes creativity, innovation and organizational learning. This is often accomplished by assuring that there are members who have personal experiences that speak to the diversity of the beneficiaries.
8. Be committed to making CoR -India a learning effectiveness will be greatly enhanced if there are systems, organization, practices and structures in place that promote learning on an individual and organizational basis.
9. That all members demonstrate the tenets of The Club of Rome on an individual level, with humility and a spirit of service to do what is best for the whole at all times.
